

Four Seasons Ball

A HOSPITALS OF REGINA FOUNDATION FUNDRAISER

Hospitals of Regina Foundation inaugural Four Seasons Ball helps make children's lives better in southern Saskatchewan

June 5, 2017, Regina, SK – The southern Saskatchewan community reaffirmed its commitment to children's health care at the inaugural Four Seasons Ball on June 3. As a result, much-needed funds will be invested in pediatric services through Hospitals of Regina Foundation.

"The Foundation is committed to supporting a world-class pediatrics program, so children across southern Saskatchewan have access to specialized health care when they need it most," says Dino Sophocleous, president and CEO. "It was a truly memorable evening. Thanks to our most dedicated sponsors, donors, supporters and volunteers, we are doing our part to create better lives and promising futures for children in our community."

The Four Season's Ball, proudly presented by GMS, brought the community together for one unforgettable evening in support of Regina's Pediatric Services. Held at the Conexus Arts Centre, a capacity crowd enjoyed a magnificent black-tie event featuring a six-course gourmet dinner, unique performers, a lively after party, and entertainment from legendary performer and feature entertainer Martin Short.

"GMS was thrilled to be the presenting sponsor of the inaugural Four Seasons Ball, promoting the critical role of Regina's Pediatric Services," says John Salmond, president and CEO. "The Ball was a magnificent experience, bringing together friends and neighbours to make a meaningful difference in the lives of children in our community."

Every year, Regina's hospitals see more than 2,000 inpatient pediatric cases from viral infections and broken bones to acute sickness and chronic diseases. Another 5,000 children are seen in our outpatient program while the Wascana Rehabilitation Centre has more than 17,000 pediatric visits per year.
